

A METHOD FOR QUICKLY PRODUCING MADE-TO-ORDER PIZZA

ABSTRACT

A method of preparing and selling made-to-order pizza.

- 5 The method requires having a set of partially baked crusts available and having a location for customers to place orders. A set of partially baked crusts are covered with sauce and cheese, to create pizza blanks. Orders for pizza are received, each of which includes a specified set of
- 10 toppings. In response to each order, the specified set of toppings is placed on one of the pizza blanks. The prepared blanks are placed in a rapid cook oven and permitted to remain for long enough to become cooked pizzas. The cooked pizzas are then removed from the rapid cook oven and
- 15 delivered to the customers in return for payments.